

What Can a Dental Plan Do for You?

Keep You Healthy

Adults with dental coverage are 43 percent more likely to visit the dentist regularly. Those who visit the dentist regularly are more likely to report good oral health.

People with good oral health are more likely to report good overall health.¹

Your dentist can detect signs and symptoms of more than 120 diseases, including diabetes and cancer.²

Save You Money

Enrolling in Delta Dental benefits lets you take advantage of group rates, and you'll receive pre-tax savings through payroll deduction.

Visiting an in-network dentist saves money – the fees charged by in-network dentists are pre-established by Delta Dental.

With most Delta Dental plans, exams and cleanings are covered at little to no out-of-pocket cost to you.

Provide Access to Expertise

Each in-network dentist goes through a credentialing process to ensure they meet Delta Dental's high standards.

With more than 152,000 dentists and over 356,000 offices, your dentist is probably in-network.³ Find out at DeltaDentalTN.com.

As the leading dental benefits carrier in the U.S., Delta Dental provides unparalleled expertise and a host of additional oral health resources.

Talk with your employer today to enroll in your company's dental benefits plan.
